HAYWOOD TRIAL ON IN EARNEST

OPENING STATEMENT MADE BY PROSECUTION.

Lawyer Hawley Tells Jury What
They Will Prove—Sweeping Arraignment of Mine Leaders—Eight Witnesses Examined by State.

Boise, Idaho, June 4.—Through James H. Hawley, senior of the group of prosecutors, the state today made the opening statement against William D. Haywood, whom it charges with the murder of Frank Steenberg, and then began presentation of testimony.

The opening statement was a broad, sweeping arraignment of the leaders of federation of miners, who were charged with plotting wholesale murder and hiring assassins, all in a giant conspiracy of vengeance upon those who obstructed their way to destroy opposition, by terrorism to control the political destinies of communities covered by their organization and perpetuate their own power within the organization.

Eight witnesses for the state were examined today. They were all from Caldwell and those who did not tell of the crime itself were called to locate Harry Orchard, who went to the town as Thomas Hogan, at various hotels and around the Steenberg home, and to show that two months before the crime John L. Simpkins, a member of the executive board of the Western Federation of Miners, had joined Orchard and had lived with him for several days in the same room.

Probably the most important witness was Julian Steenberg, son of the dead statesman, who told how Orchard had three days before the murder inquired of him about his father's movements. He told of meeting Orchard, then known as Hogan, at the railroad station in Caldwell three days before the crime and telling him, in answer to his inquiry that his father would be home the following Friday. He said he was on his way home with his uncle and was two blocks behind his father when the explosion occurred.

Tomorrow Orchard is to be brought in from the penitentiary and turned over to Sheriff Hodgkin until he is examined and cross examined to the satisfaction of both sides. He will be a close cell neighbor in jail to the men whose lives he may swear away, but it is likely they will not get even a glimpse of him during his stay.

"There is no necessity of going deeply into this matter," declared Hawley, "the jury will place more dependence on the evidence than any thing I can say."

Hawley, then reviewed the Steenberg murder, referring to the Orchard indictment, declaring the fact it was rendered separately, was not in conjunction with the men now on trial, and in no way prejudicial against the Western Federation. His evidence would be given capable credence.

Hawley admitted he did not expect to prove the defendants were present when the crime was committed, but stated he would show they were accessories before the fact and were equally as guilty as Orchard. He declared he would prove without doubt that the leaders of the Western Federation of Miners conspired to kill Steenberg and said he would show that the federation, as an organization, became an accomplished fact in 1893 and after that time riot and bloodshed was the portion of the entire western mining community. Hawley declared all this was due to the executive committee in part, but for the most part to the president and secretary-treasurer. They, he declared, have, under the constitution, absolute authority to control the federations destinies.

He declared the rank and file was innocent of law breaking, but the leaders were responsible for the death of Steenberg and scores of others besides.

Darrow objected to this statement and was overruled when Hawley declared he expected to prove all he asserted.

Continuing, Hawley declared the leaders planned to control entire communities by acts of murder. The ideas of the leaders never changed from inception. The inner circle planned to perpetuate its own power in the interest of control both of the federation and the communities they lived in by employing desperate criminals to commit murder and spread terrorism.

Darrow again objected, declaring that inasmuch as Haywood had not become a member of the federation at that time, could not be implicated in the crime Hawley mentioned.

A hot fight between counsel followed, Darrow attacking Hawley's methods, but the court overruled the objection. Fifteen minutes' debate followed with Darrow, Hawley and the court participating. Finally the court ruled Hawley must confine his argument to what he could prove. The court finally ruled any objections the defense might desire to make would be noted in the record.

Hawley then proceeded. These men left a trail of blood over the entire mining region, took life and destroyed property at will, he asserted. They raised a large emergency fund, part of which was devoted to the employment of the best legal talent to defend hired murderers. The murder of Steenberg simply was an incident in the carnival of crime by the inner circle whose motto was rule or ruin. He incurred the enmity of these men by preventing them attaining their objects. Hawley then devoted half an hour to reciting the facts following the murder and the arrest and confession of Orchard.

Hawley spoke for two hours, winding up his argument by declaring the inner circle paid a scale of wages for every description of crime. These men made a master trade chief among them being Orchard and Steve Adams, who committed scores of outrages, all incident to the conspiracy to secure the political supremacy of a member of the inner circle. Hawley recited the names of men whom he declared were killed in Denver, Tillamook, Cripple Creek, etc.

Hawley closed declaring he would absolutely show Haywood actually responsible for all this.

KILLED BY A LIGHT BULB.

Grace Dillon of Champaign Touches Incandescent and Falls Dead.

Champaign, Ill., June 4.—Grace Dillon, 13 years old, daughter of G. S. Dillon, was almost instantly killed at 7:15 o'clock Monday morning as a result of an electric shock from an incandescent light bulb. Her sister, Bertha, in an adjoining room, heard her scream and found the girl lying on the floor. The thumb and fourth finger of the left hand were burned, the finger being coked to the bone. There was also a burn on the great toe of the right foot, where the current left the body to a register on which she stood, and which formed the ground circuit. The girl was a member of the junior class at the high school and had remained at home from school, to help her mother clean house. She had been down to breakfast and afterward went to her room where she was taking up a carpet.

Jacksonville defeated Quincy in easy fashion Tuesday afternoon by a score of 6 to 1. The visitors did not have a look in during the entire game and after it was all over the fans began wondering how it all happened at Quincy.

The visitors were unable to hit McCarthy with any effect and in addition the old man held his position in phenomenal style and rapped out two hits which brought in three of the six runs. Pratt also was there with the stick and made three hits. "Dumphy" Hughes was laid up with a lame back and "Pa" Belt played first and looked like Frank Chance. He had seventeen chances, all of which he accepted without a bobble.

Jacksonville made one in the second on two singles and a double. Two in the fourth on three singles and a sacrifice hit. Three were scored in the eighth on four safeties. The visitors' lone run came in the eighth on a scratch hit to right field and an error. The score:

THREE PERSONS TORN TO PIECES

KILLED BY EXPLOSION OF CAR OF GASOLINE.

Frightful Accident Occurred at Reddick, Ill.—All Windows in Village Broken by Explosion—Fire started by Hot Box.

Reddick, Ill., June 4.—Three persons were killed here to night by the explosion of a car loaded with gasoline. One of the killed was Fred Hatting, a barber of Reddick. The names of the others are unknown.

The three men were watching freight cars burn that had become ignited from a hot box. As the train neared the junction of the Chicago, Indiana & Southern railroad and Wabash, the car with the hot box was derailed, two other cars loaded with oil were also dragged into the ditch and all caught fire. Next to these cars was another loaded with gasoline, which caught fire from the sparks. An explosion followed, which broke all the windows in the village and demolished chimneys of houses for miles around. The three men were blown to atoms and fragments of their bodies for a hundred yards around. No one else was injured.

Several other freight cars composing the train were burned.

BEATEN BY CHINESE

Fleeing to Hong Kong for Protection.

London, June 5.—A dispatch received here from Hong Kong says Mr. Polkard, a Methodist missionary at Chao-Tung-Fu, has been mercilessly beaten by Chinese. His lung was pierced by a weapon. Missionaries are flocking into Hong Kong from Swatow and Pakhoi districts.

CONFISCATION.

Mexico City, June 4.—According to advices from Guatemala, President Cabrera has levied a tax of $600,000 on the estate of Dr. Estupinan, as assessment in payment of the government debt, which practically amounts to confiscation of the plantation. Estupinan was formerly minister from Salvador to Mexico.

LOCATED AT SPRINGFIELD.

John Coleman, against whom a warrant was sworn out Saturday evening by J. Pastor, on a charge of assault and battery, was located in Springfield. Coleman was brought to the city Tuesday evening and will be given a hearing to day.

CRACKER'S BEND.

Children's day was observed at the chapel Sunday afternoon. A great congregation was present, Arcadians, Ebenezerites and others. The children done exceedingly well, the audience gave good attention and everything was all right, we do not know the amount of the offering, but believe it to be in proportion to the audience.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Turley, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Peck of Monroe, drove to the Bond Sunday to attend Children's day exercises at the chapel.

Mrs. Wislowski is convalescing. Mrs. Fred Ginder is much better. Ed Farmer and family of Prentice came down Friday to visit with relatives over Sunday.

Miss Bonnie Bliss Smith went to Springfield Friday, for a two weeks' visit with her mother.

Mrs. Peter Brainer is no better and her friends fear that her disease will prove to be typhoid fever.

Talk about luck and providential occurrences, some people scoff at such things, but we happen to know of a case that cannot be turned down. It is this way. Rev. J. L. McKay goes to Arcadia every two weeks to preach and also preaches at Grace chapel at 3 p. m. on the same day. Of course he feels like eating something before preaching at night, but is never sure of the blessed opportunity. Last Sunday morning providence took a hand in this matter; a good old hen, of the Methodist persuasion tucked herself away in his buggy and rode all day with the good minister; at Grace she laid a nice fresh egg and would have continued to lay as many more as would have been necessary for the preacher's supper, but a good may invited him to supper and Mrs. Hen had no occasion to hurry matters therefore she only produced one egg and it was not used. But it would have been providential had the preacher missed the invitation to supper, but right there is where his good luck came in.

Precent Vice S. H. Crum has notified our people that he would hold a Sunday school convention at Grace chapel on the 16th of this month, at p. m.

CRAVING FOR

DRINK DESTROYED.
The best aid to temperance is that which will strengthen the drunkard's nervous system and cure his unnatural craving for drink. We believe that any man who really desires to be cured of the liquor habit can cure himself by using Orrin. This remarkable discovery has made so many among our customers that we are glad to sell it under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.
It is in two forms: No. 1 that can be given secretly, and No. 2 for those who wish to be cured. It is not only the most reliable treatment known, but it is also the most economical as it costs only $1 a box and there is no detention from the usual duties, while if cure is not effected, there is no expense whatever. Mail orders filled. The Orrin Co., Washington, D. C., or Armstrongs' Drug store.

CLASS DAY EXERCISES

Illinois College Seniors Present Fine Program to Delighted Audience—Presentation to Juniors—Key Oration.

Class day exercises of the senior class of Illinois college took place in the grove near the Jones Memorial building Tuesday morning and was attended by a large number of friends of the institution.

The first part of the program was the annual presentation of gifts to the junior class. The gifts varied as to the needs of each junior and it was with much reluctance that some of the kind remembrances were received. The presentation on the part of the Seniors was said by Earl Wylder in his happy manner and was met with an equal humorous response for the juniors by Charles Spruit.

Following the presentation the play, "She Stoops to Conquer" was staged. It was the intention of the members of the senior class to have the play Monday evening but the inclemency of the weather prevented. The giving of the play in the morning without the timely help of light effects was somewhat against the performers but they showed themselves equal to the emergency of the task by giving a fine production. All the parts were well taken and with the much study that every one had made of the piece the audience was highly pleased and their frequent applause attested their approval.

Miss Cole, under whose management the play was given deserves much praise for her success as she has been most indefatigable in her efforts.

The following was the cast of characters:
Sir Charles Marlow—Merle Vit-tum.

Young Marlow—T. E. Wylder.
George Hastings—F. S. McKinney.
Tony Lumpkin—Tom Butler.
Mrs. Harcastle—Miss Hoegard.
Miss Kate Harcastle—Miss Car-rio Sprecher.
Constance Neville—Miss Florida Tolbert.

After the play, everyone gathered on the south side of Sturevant hall where the Ivy was planted with the usual impressive ceremony. The Ivy oration was given by Phillip Kennedy and was full of meaning and inspiration. The young man is one of the forceful speakers of his class and his message was heard with keen interest.

SOHMER

FOR A PERIOD OF NEARLY FORTY YEARS the Sohmer Piano has been recognized as that of the most artistic in musical results. As its makers have grown in experience, so has their product increased in popularity, because of its unquestioned merit, in all that tends to the production of an instrument INDIVIDUAL in character.

Each member of the firm is practical in all that the word implies. They have never allowed themselves to become contaminated with the "commercial spirit" and in this respect stand wholly on a plane by themselves.

They can point with pardonable pride to the long list of well known artists who use the SOHMER PIANO in daily practice, all of whom have bought and paid for same. From their beginning they have refused to pay for the expression of hired performers.

Testimonials of paid artists have no bearing on the value of a piano, as the concertizing of instruments is solely a money transaction and in many instances misleading.

Comment is Unnecessary.

PHI ALPHA

GLAD REUNION OF THE DEAR OLD SOCIETY.

Superb Home Gathering After Three Years Absence From the Campus.

Many Testimonies Show That the Spirit of Fraternity and Loyalty to the Organization and the College Are as Great as Ever.

No institution in the land has a more grand and glorious history than Illinois college and none can boast of better literary societies than those which assemble on the hill each college term. None can estimate the great value to the members of these literary bodies, for there the students meet among their peers, persons ready to make allowances for inexperience and willing to aid in the effort for education and the ability to speak in public and take part in debate and in a thousand and one ways secure improvement possible in no other way. In most colleges these societies are literary and nothing more, but in old Illinois there is in addition a bond of fellowship, fraternity and good will seldom found elsewhere. The late Hon. William M. Springer well expressed this sentiment when he said that after leaving Illinois college he graduated at another institution and joined one of the literary societies connected with it and while he had actually forgotten the name of the society he always took delight in attending the reunions of Old Phi Alpha as frequently as he could and he never lost his love for it.

Once in three years the societies have a reunion when an attempt is made to secure the attendance of all past and present members and it is fine to see the efforts put forth by the old boys of long ago to be present. For years Major Van Eaton, one of the founders, used to come all the way from the state of Mississippi as did also Hon. E. H. Bristow, while last night the reunion was favored with the presence of Prof. Frank Bristow, a brother of the late member and a resident of Kentucky. Many gathered from far and near and the event was one which was splendid to behold. The college itself is on the up grade and evidently taking a new lease of life and the societies are catching the spirit and coming up too. Never has there been a finer gathering or a more enthusiastic assembly than was brought together on the occasion mentioned. First there was an informal meeting in the old society hall which had witnessed the maiden efforts of so many orators and there notes were compared and cordial greetings exchanged and it was a pleasure to see the grand spirit which prevailed. Gray haired members of the past shook hands with the young men of to day and all were happy and full of zeal.

After the hour had been enjoyed in the old hall hallowed by so many sacred associations, the members repaired to the gymnasium building, where tables were spread and where the best of royal, good cheer prevailed. The presence of so many past members was an inspiration, as some had come back after many years to renew their acquaintances and exhibit their loyalty to the college and society. Among the latter was Dr. W. H. Finley of Cascade, Iowa, of the class of 1855, and this was his first visit for 52 years, but he found a few familiar faces and several sons and grandsons of classmates and friends. His class consisted of himself, Lyman Lacey, A. C. Matthews, Flavius Van Eaton, J. Burt, Dan Brown and George C. Noyes, all Phi's except the last named. After leaving college Dr. Finley studied medicine at Ohio Medical college, Cincinnati, Ohio, and served in the army during the civil war as surgeon in the 12th Iowa infantry, the 8th cavalry and 9th Illinois infantry. After leaving the army he practiced his profession over forty years and then retired to enjoy a well earned rest and is now reaping the reward of an honorable career.

Many other grey haired "boys" were present and all were in the best of spirits.

The table was supplied with a fine menu, as follows:

Cream of Tomato Bouillon
Olives Pickles Radishes
Wafers
Beef Tenderloin with Mushrooms
French Peas Potatoes
Phi Alpha Punch
Tomato Salad
Tutti Frutti Ice Cream
Strawberries with Cream
Assorted Cake Bonbons Salted Nuts
Cheese Coffee

After the good things had been amply discussed S. W. Nichols was chosen chairman of the evening and Hugh M. Wilson of Chicago toastmaster. On taking the chair Mr. Nichols remarked that for 42 years he had not failed to attend all the reunions of the society and every first and last meeting also during that time.

The toastmaster of the evening, Hugh M. Wilson, editor of the Railway Age, of Chicago, was received with hearty applause and with happy remarks he introduced the speakers of the evening. He said a toastmaster was also a toastmaster and had unlimited time, while others had to be limited. He did not have a fair show while in the college and was getting even. The first speaker was President Ramme-Baum.

who spoke about Illinois college. Of the remarks of the speakers a short outline is given:

I should like to tell you about many hopeful things regarding the college, but must wait till tomorrow. Were it not for a member of the Phi Alpha society I should not be here. From him I heard so much of this society. I supposed there was no other and so I am here in what I hope is my life work. (Applause). From some remarks of the chairman of the evening in society hall I learned there was another society and I soon learned the value of the literary societies of the college and the members. It took but a short time to ascertain the great work of the societies in the college and that they are at the root of much good in the institution.

The college has a right to expect much from the societies, for had it not been for the college there would be no society. The members of the society should always speak a good word for the college. The loyalty of the student to the college and his society should be great. Many problems have occupied the past few months and they have had great labors and a fine degree of success, but much yet remains to be done. Should there be any hero who would help with funds or promises, it would be very acceptable. The college has bright prospects ahead of it and a bit of help now will prove a favor and assistance. Brighter days are surely in store for Illinois college; let each Phi do his part toward hastening along the good work. (Applause).

The college song was then sung, after which Carl E. Epler
of Quincy spoke to the sentiment: "Phi Alpha Builders." He said in part: "If the spirit of former Phi Alpha's ever visit their old society they must be bending over the balcony of heaven looking upon this gathering here to night. We are sorry that he is here in spirit. The founders and builders of this society have entered into the very war and wool of the college and we are here to carry on the work which they have given into our hands. The man of true worth is always watched. Men who have true and high ideals should be followed and imitated. Life is swift and we must be fully prepared to meet the demands of this present age. With so many new inventions and so many new opportunities opening up Phi society fills the want of preparing young men to meet these various demands.

Edward Doocy.
The next speaker of the evening was Judge Edward Doocy of the class of '71. He spoke on the subject: "Phases of Happiness," as follows: "I regard it a great privilege to meet with you fellows and especially some of the older men who are present here to night. Happiness someone says is the quality of being happy. Drummond says 'there is no true happiness but in being young' and I hope all who are asked for subscriptions for the college will remember that. Every individual has his idea of happiness. There is a growing tendency for the simple life, which has its beginning in the state of being happy. Divine destiny which controls all things, has its work in bringing us together to help each other and here we learn the lesson of making others happy. We should live to make others happy. He who can say to himself 'I have done my work to day has learned the true secret of being happy.'"

The members were next favored by a song from the Phi Alpha quartet, composed of Robert Hockenbuhl, Melville Kennedy, Charles A. Rowe and Phillip Kennedy, which was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.

Alexander A. McDonald.
After the quartet sang the toastmaster introduced Mr. McDonald of the class of 1900, who spoke as follows upon the subject: "New Worlds to Conquer." "Times have materially changed since the days when Alexander the Great wept when there were no more worlds to conquer. But there are greater worlds than the material world to conquer. What a flood of memories the subject brings to me of bygone Phi Alpha days. A man should conquer the things which are before him and be satisfied after doing his best. I have come all the way from Oklahoma to attend this reunion. I believe Phi Alpha society and Illinois college are one and inseparable. I believe the spirit of Phi Alpha will always guide this college in the way of right."

George M. McConnell.
"The Poetry and Prose of Life" was the subject of George M. McConnell's toast. Mr. McConnell was unable to be present, but his address was sent and read by W. D. Wood of the class of '72. The address breathed a spirit of life and true devotion and revealed the character of an old Phi's heart.

Frank J. Bristow.
Mr. Bristow was next called upon to speak from the sentiment "There's Music in the Air." He varied from the usual order in his toast and interspersed it with a number of songs he sang and played on the piano, among them being "There's Music in the Air," "This Your Choice," "Aethusa," "A Catastrophe," and "The Golden Gate." His remarks were full of humor and sound thought and was one of the interesting toasts of the evening.

Melville T. Kennedy.
The next speaker called upon was Melville T. Kennedy of the class of '04, who said in part from the subject "The Call of the West." It is a pleasure to know that the old Phi spirit remains the same during each succeeding year. I don't know why I was called upon for this subject. The toast certainly presents many problems which have to be solved as the years go by. This is an age when men are called, men who can lead men morally and otherwise. Only 5 per cent of men get into college and this fact deepens the responsibility of the small college which produces these men. If the college does not furnish the strong and virtuous, keen minded man, where are the leaders to come from? The spirit of Phi Alpha society is one which makes for men. I believe the supreme end of Illinois college should be the making of an all around capable man in the true sense of the word."

W. H. Finley.
Mr. Finley, the oldest member present of Phi Alpha society, was next called upon for an address. He said in part:

"I am pleased to be here. I am glad to see the progress of the college. I remember when Beecher hall was the only building on the hill. You young men have more advantages than we of our day. There is more to know now." Mr. Finley told of many interesting facts of early days and his words were heard with keen interest.

Thomas W. Smith.
The toast master next introduced Rev. T. W. Smith of the class of 1887 who spoke on the subject "The Message of the West to the East." Since the hour is late I must speak briefly. I will speak more from what we may expect from Phi Alpha men. I think of the men of old who have gone from the west to the east. There is a type of man, men of moral power as well as mental culture who are needed in the world. I find there is a need for training which will enable young men to be stable in their business career. We need men who can be relied upon as well as men of brains. Men who cannot control their appetites cannot be relied upon at the critical moment of life. Mental concentration is in great demand. I have a high regard for the stamp of students Illinois college has sent out in the past. We need men of deep moral courage; men who can manufacture moral conviction."

William Edgar Sampson.
The last speaker of the evening was William Edgar Sampson of the class of '98. He said in part upon the subject "Phi Alpha Militant:" "I don't know as there is any appropri-

Goods "On Approval"

One of the best things about this business is the way we satisfy our customers; it really does us more good than any amount of advertising.

For example: Like any modern up-to-date concern, we're always glad to send goods out "on approval"; give you a chance to get clothes from various stores if you like, take them home and compare them. We've got the goods here that will hold their own in any such a test.

But we go much further than that; we believe it will pay you to go part way with us.

After you've bought and paid for the clothes here, they're still "on approval." If you don't approve of them, get your money back; you'll approve of that, and we want your approval more than your money

Seeing these elegant spring suits, which we are selling at $15 to $25, you'll approve of them in style, finish and in price.

BUSINESS MEN TAKING ACTIVE

STEPS TOWARD LOCATION OF
BRANCH PLANT OF BROWN
SHOE FACTORY.

$60,000 Necessary—$10,000 Subscribed Last Night on Lot Plan—Committee Will Visit St. Louis To Day.

Forty members of Jacksonville Business Men's association were present at the meeting Tuesday night to hear the report regarding the investigations made for the location of the Brown Shoe Factory in Jacksonville. George E. Matthews had visited Moberly, Mo., where the company started a factory January 1, that now employs 260 persons with a pay role of between $4,000 and $5,000 a week and that expects to increase the number of employees to 500 before the end of the year. He interviewed many of the business men of Moberly who stated that they gave as a city $60,000 to secure the location of factory and that they were highly pleased with the results thus far and that the prospects were all that had been represented.

In Hannibal E. E. Crabtree visited the Roberts, Johnson & Rand shoe factory where 1,000 persons are employed and a firm that has a weekly pay role of $8,500. Here the business men have given practically $66,000 to secure shoe factories, exclusive of sites and are not after all they can get.

L. Frank visited Springfield where the DesNoyer factory is located and brought the same enthusiastic reports as to the manner in which the citizens have been pleased and financially satisfied with the encouragement given to shoe factories.

The Brown Shoe company of St. Louis are locating four branch factories. One was located in Moberly, Mo., and began operations January 1, 1907. Within the last two weeks Brookings, Mo., and Murphysboro, Ill., have secured the location of a factory each, leaving one more factory to be located. Jacksonville now has the opportunity of securing this factory. In all the places where these branch factories have been located the cities have given the company $50,000 and a site costing about $10,000. They are asking $60,000 to locate in Jacksonville. The manner in which the report of the men who made the investigation was received is best evidenced by the fact that they voted to send a committee of two, Messrs. George Matthews and E. E. Crabtree to St. Louis to day to confer with the company regarding definite plans and by the manner in which thirty-six of the forty men present took hold of the proposition to the extent of subscribing $10,000 of the $60,000 necessary. The $10,000 was pledged on the lot plan. The plan is to purchase an acre of ground, plat it and sell the lots for $250 each. The money thus raised would be turned over to the company as part of the bonus asked for.

The enthusiasm of all who heard the reports brought from cities where shoe firms are located and where the Brown Shoe company is already doing business was quite marked and the conservative business men of the association feel that an opportunity is at hand for securing a large manufacturing enterprise if the citizens will only take advantage of it and contribute the financial assistance that is being given by cities of less than 10,000 population under similar circumstances.

LUNCHEON GIVEN UNDER AUSPICES

ACADEMY, ATHANEUM AND CON-SERVATORY PRONOUNCED suc-CESS.

Large Number Present—Many Delightful Speeches Made—Occasion Notable One and Long to Be Remembered.

An event that promises to grow with increasing interest with the progress of the Illinois college commencement was inaugurated Tuesday afternoon when a delightful luncheon was given under the auspices of the alumnae and past students of the Jacksonville Female academy, the Athaneum and Conservatory of Music. An association was formed of these separate societies recently and their first luncheon under the joint effort was indeed a pronounced success.

The members met informally in the parlors of academy hall between 12 and 1 o'clock for an interchange of greetings where many former acquaintanceships were renewed. At 1 o'clock the guests were invited to the music studio where tables had been spread for luncheon with seats for 130.

Each person was seated by means of a place card bearing the name of the occupant and after all had found places Mrs. H. F. Carriel, president of the Academy Alumnae association, called for order and announced that Mrs. Belle Drury would invoke the divine blessing. Mrs. Carriel then announced the following musical program, which was finely given.

Piano Solo—Miss Edna Ward-haugh.

Vocal Solo—Miss Katherine Ros-
erson.

Violin Solo—Miss Irene Thompson.

Vocal Solo—Mr. Yandley.

At the conclusion of the musical program the luncheon was served and the guests were occupied for an hour with the excellent menu.

At the conclusion of the final course Mrs. Carriel expressed her appreciation of the honor she had in presiding over such a company and what a pleasure it was to see so many present in place made dear to memory by similar gatherings in the past. She called for the minutes of the last meeting which were read by Mrs. J. Thompson Sharpe, secretary and treasurer of the society. They were approved as read and Mrs. Carriel announced that in view of the union of the three organizations she would appoint three committees, one from each organization, to perpetuate the union and to act as representatives of their respective organizations. The committees were named as follows:

Academy—Mrs. F. J. Waddell,
Mrs. W. T. Capps and Mrs. H. F. Carriel.

Athaneum—Mrs. Deem Rapp, Mrs. E. P. Kirby and Mrs. L. W. Chambers.
Conservatory—Mrs. W. T. Brown,
Mrs. Barr Brown and Mrs. M. F. Dunlap.

Mrs. Barr Brown was then introduced to announce the benefit recital to be given under Conservatory auspices June 17 for Miss Sarajane Matthews and asked the co-operation of all members and friends of the Conservatory in making the concert a grand success. The announcement was greeted with much applause.

Mrs. Carriel then introduced in fitting language Mrs. Julia Carter, member of the class of 1845, the first class to graduate. She spoke in a reminiscent line, but very happily of the times of long ago and read extracts from a number of old programs, which had been a recent gift to her. Her remarks had to be heard to be appreciated, as was the case with all the speakers who were so fortunate in the expressions of their sentiments that it is to be regretted they cannot be reproduced in detail.

Mrs. Carriel next referred to the absence of Mrs. W. D. Sanders, who had so beautifully remembered the occasion by sending lovely flowers which graced the tables and which were from her own garden. Miss Frances Wood was asked to write a note to Mrs. Sanders expressing the regret of the association over her absence and their appreciation of her generous remembrance.

Mrs. W. A. Oliver was then introduced as the "one poet that Jacksonville delighted to honor," and she spoke upon "Acquiring the Rudiments." Her remarks were very cleverly prepared and were a recital of her experiences as a child when she entered the academy and other schools and the consequent embarrassment suffered through her name of Martha Washington. Her recital was intensely interesting.

Mrs. John N. Ward was next introduced and brought greeting from the Alumnae society of the Woman's college. Her words were highly appropriate and the sentiment expressed is found best in the following language to which she gave such splendid utterance: "Friends, I feel that our hopes and aims are one, and that the alumnae of the academy, Athaneum, Conservatory and college should stand side by side and hand in hand strive for the advancement of Christian education in our fair city."

Mrs. Deem Rapp, a former pupil of the Athaneum who has worked indefatigably for the success of the affiliation and who had written scores of letters to former Athaneum pupils, was next introduced and spoke briefly, making special reference to Principal Gaylord and Miss Heffernan former members of the Athaneum faculty and who sent words of greeting.

Miss Sue Ellis, to whose energy and enthusiasm was made possible the academy alumnae catalogue published last year, was requested to read a golden wedding invitation received from a former academy alumna extending greetings.

Mrs. Carriel then spoke of the efforts of President C. H. Rammelkamp of the Illinois college and of his response at the alumnae banquet last year. She referred to the fact that he was soon to become a Benedict and lead to the altar one of Jacksonville's fairest daughters and thought that it would be fitting if the three associations could make some substantial expression of their regard for the president and his prospective bride. Mrs. J. H. Osborne made a motion in keeping with the suggestion of Mrs. Carriel and a neat sum was soon raised which will serve as a means of showing the kindly feeling of the association toward the president and his bride-to-be. Mrs. W. T. Capps and Mrs. E. P. Kirby served as the soliciting committee.

Mrs. Worthington then presented the matter of bringing Ben Greet and his players here for two performances under Conservatory auspices and the matter was referred to a committee composed of Mrs. Worthington, Mrs. E. P. Kirby and Mrs. J. H. Osborne.

Mrs. Ensley Moore was next introduced and gave a very fine address upon the subject "Education in the Past, Better Fifty Years Now Than 500 Long Ago." She was heard with marked attention and spoke well and entertainingly.

Officers for the ensuing year were then elected as follows:

President—Mrs. Ensley Moore.
Vice President—Mrs. Salome S. Wilson of Lincoln.

Recording Secretary—Miss Grape Carter.

Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer—Miss Georgia Fairbank.

Mrs. Salome S. Wilson of Lincoln, an Athaneum alumna was then introduced and spoke upon the subject "May the Images of Friendship Never Grow Rusty." Mrs. Wilson is a woman who has a fine appearance and presence and her remarks were filled with beautiful sentiment, regretting the little attention paid to friendships in the present and making a plea in behalf of this union which is of such strength when forged for a common purpose.

The afternoon program was concluded with some very fine reminiscent remarks by Mrs. Belle Drury, who is always heard with pleasure. The company then spent an hour socially before adjournment.

Notes.

During the afternoon reference was made to the substantial manner in which the academy alumnae were helping Illinois college, stating that between four and five thousand dollars had been raised and of the similar work of the Athaneum members who with smaller numbers had raised over $2,000. The spirit of the gathering was true devotion to the interests of the Illinois college and perpetuation of the three fold organization.

There were about forty ladies from out of the city present at the luncheon, all of whom had been members of one of the three organizations.

INFORMAL RECEPTION.

Mrs. William Barr Brown of 1109 West State street desires to extend and invitation to all members of the Illinois Conservatory and Athaneum to attend an informal reception at her home this afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock.

Dr. Skeen is a professional visitor in Roodhouse.

Mrs. Mary King Benton and Mrs. Mary Moll King of Peoria are visiting at the home of their cousin, Mrs. Ensley Moore. They were both former pupils of the Athaneum.

Nerves Unstrung Could Not Sleep

Mr. A. J. Filkins of Newark, N. Y., tells of a permanent cure by Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills.

When a man states in the most positive terms that Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills was the only medicine out of all that he used that gave him health, natural strength and steadiness of nerves, and concludes by saying he can "heartily say" it, he means it, and just what Mr. Filkins says hundreds of others have said in letters to us equally as strong. Mr. Filkins says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills is the only medicine that helped me. I was in a very bad condition. My nerves all unstrung—played out from care, nervous, excitable and unable to sleep at all nights. Nothing seemed to take hold until I got Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. They have done me a world of good, steadied my nerves, given me strength and sleep. I needed them badly enough, and can honestly say the pills have been a great comfort to me. I can also say they are sure and reliable. I am only too glad to recommend them." See a box at all dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

SCHOOL FOR THE BLIND

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES WERE HELD TUESDAY MORNING.

Inspiring Address by Hon. F. G. Blair State Superintendent of Public Instruction—The Program.

The graduating exercises of Illinois State School for the Blind took place Tuesday morning in the chapel of the institution there being a large audience present to enjoy the program. The platform was decorated with flowers and plants and above it were graceful streamers of the class colors. Supt. J. H. Freeman presided and on the platform were Hon. F. G. Blair state superintendent of public instruction, Charles D. Babb of Homer and Charles A. Hammond of Stockton, trustees of the school, Dr. W. P. Short, Rev. R. O. Post and Rev. R. F. Thrapp. The exercises as a whole were of more than ordinary interest and gave evidence of the fact that the pupils are receiving the careful training which is their due.

The program opened with an orchestral number, Garrit's "Marionette" overture which was given a splendid rendition the prechord never appearing to better advantage. The invocation was by Rev. R. F. Thrapp and then the Junior chorus sang two songs, "Swing, Swing, Swing," by Lohr, and "The Broken Philon" by Johnson. The young voices blended beautifully and the audience was greatly pleased.

"Thomas Jefferson" was the theme of an oration by E. Byron Shaw, who reviewed the character of Jefferson from youth until the close of his eventful life. Jefferson's legal ability, his patriotism, his rugged manhood, his broad mindedness, his public career were all referred to. The speaker also dwelt upon the splendid record of Jefferson's presidential career and he had no hesitation in writing the name of Jefferson among the great ones of the country's history. The next number was a cornet duet, "Short and Sweet," by Short, played with musicianly excellence by Hugh A. Reynolds and John Kireh. Miss Clara J. Pettit told of "Ardie Perilla." She mentioned that the spirit of exploration has been the cause of many discoveries by land and sea and has been the occasion of improvements and advances in science. Various expeditions to the north pole were told of and the sufferings and privations of the brave men who manned such expeditions were described. The recent explorations of Peary were mentioned and it was explained that he had left but a comparatively few miles in the vicinity of the north pole untraversed.

The girls' chorus sang Sullivan's "Lost Chord" with fine effect and the auditors were enthusiastic in their appreciation of the familiar melody. Miss Fleta M. Conroy's essay was on "Music in America" and the young lady made reference to a goodly number of men and women who have done much for the cause of music in this country. Mason and Payne were spoken of, as early musicians or composers who attracted notice. Among names prominent later were mentioned McDowell, Sherwood, Lockwood, Julia Rivo King, Fannie Bloomfield Ziesler, Maude Powell, Clarence Eddy, Theodore Thomas, Dudley Buck and De Koven.

Miss Nellie B. Lee sang Van Lennep's "In Seville's Groves" very artistically. Her voice is one of more than usual scope and she handles it in a manner to give evidence of well ordered instruction. Mrs. Louise B. Short was the accompanist.

Superintendent Freeman then introduced Hon. Francis G. Blair, state superintendent of public instruction, and referred to the very important duties of the office which Mr. Blair holds. Mr. Blair speaks in a very inspiring, forceful way and was heard with great interest. He said in part:

"When Ralph Waldo Emerson said 'Hitth your wagon to a star,' he uttered a great principle to be followed out by the ambitious. Certainly to realize much one must aim high, and follow out lofty ideals. There are great differences in the potentialities and possibilities of the boys and girls in our public schools and there will be great differences in results even if they all follow after the same idea. It is true that if a morbid idea fastens itself on the mind of man that if he does not cast it off that in time it will gain the mastery, and how much greater should be the effort if a wholesome idea. A German proverb says 'what a man eats so he is,' but the Bible tells us that as a man thinketh in his heart, so is he, and it is a great truth. It is said that in the little hamlet where the passion play is enacted that the persons who take part are so schooled and trained that in time they resemble the lofty characters they are portraying. Then, too, it is an accepted fact that the children of foster parents often in time grow to look and be like them. We to-day need to pray the prayer of Plato of old, 'Lord make us beautiful within.' In a town or community you will find the people are largely what you take to them. If you are looking for sordid and unpleasant things you will be apt to find them; and on the other hand if you see things that are uplifting you will be likely to find them. A bird of carrion will in a seemingly pure and attractive locality seek out and find the one spot which is suitable to supply its wants. Remember that if you grow you must have an ideal, an ideal to guide you. And it must not be an immovable one. It is well to progress to a given point, but do not let any goal attained mark the last of your ambition. Let your ideals be of the retreating type, moving on as you get nearer to them. Right here I want to speak of the importance of the public school. I am sometimes astounded at the seeming indifference of parents to the schools. The teacher has much to do with the making of the character of the child and it is all important who are to be the teachers and officers of our great school systems. Hardships seem to me to be the best thing for young men, as I have seen so many life failures made by young men who had every advantage in the way of wealth and position. Your ideals must not only be high and retreating, but they must be appealing as well. I mean that ideal should not only be attractive, but also within the bounds of reason. You cannot all be presidents or justices of the supreme court, but each one can do with all his might the duty that lies nearest him. Whatever your duty or work may be throw your best energy into it and you will grow along with the task. Have ideals, but also let the ideals have you, for if life is inspired by some idea which means growth the plainest duties will seem pleasant and the merest drudgery will be glorified.

The senior chorus sang "Greetings to Springtime," by Strauss, very excellently and then the diplomas were presented by Superintendent Freeman with appropriate remarks. LIVES DEARER THAN OUR VERY OWN

How many lives dearer to us than our very own have been placed in needless jeopardy by failure to provide against and forestall the greater suffering which too frequently accompanies and follows the bearing of children? That we would do anything within our power to obviate the possibility of such an happening is too patent to admit of question; therefore—mark well this fact—a liniment, by name, has been devised, whose function it is to prepare in advance the muscles and tissues intimately associated with parturition.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

This liniment is for external application. By its use the parts are relaxed and enabled to withstand not only the actual strain brought to bear on them during accompaniment, but also to rally from this ordeal and speedily regain their normal proportions and tonicity. It is not irritating to the most sensitive surfaces, and is applicable to all cases. It's not enough to call it Mother's Friend—it's the friend of the whole family. $1.00, all druggists. Book "Motherhood" free.

The Proof of the Starching

Is the article immaculately white, possessing indescribable beauty and delicacy, with just the pliability to hang gracefully, yet with firmness that insures permanent shape-retention? Does it resist the ill effects of dust and keep its dainty finish? Then it was surely starched with the genuine.

Chicago Grain Markets.

Chicago, June 4.—Wheat—Prices broke 3 cents a bushel to day because of general liquidation due to favorable weather for crop both in Europe and America. Feature was the unloading of large lines held by several leading bulls, their totals sales for the day being estimated between three and four million bushels. These sales had apparently become discouraged by continued favorable weather and decided to throw overboard their lines. Selling from this source was in evidence when the market began and initial quotations showed losses of 3/4 to 1 1/2 c. Commission houses loaded up with stop orders many of which reached the opening decline. The execution of these orders caused still further recessions.
Decline 1 1/2 at Liverpool due to better crop conditions in Eastern Europe depressed market here. Last hour prices rallied a cent from the low point of the day and close was fairly steady; July down 1/4 to 1/2 c; September 1/2 c lower.
Corn—The slump in wheat weakened corn early, but later the market developed strength on buying by leading bulls. Much of this demand was the result of small acceptances from the west. Close was strong,
July up 3/4 c.
Oats—The break in wheat and better weather caused a weakness. Long were the chief sellers, but the volume of trading was small. July closed off 1/4 c.

K. OF C. ABENDUNTERHALTUNG.

Last night was German night at Jacksonville Iouenell, the bi-weekly entertainment being in charge of the "German committee," and was the greatest success of the season. A large and well pleased audience enjoyed themselves until a late hour.

The hall was tastefully arranged and decorated suggesting the German idea. After a program of German entertainments, a German echre was played by those present, after which an excellent German lunch was served, on which the committee exerted themselves.

The following were the winners

In the German echre: Ladies' first prize, Miss Lilly Meier; second prize, Miss Flora Olliverson. Gentlemen's first prize, David J. Harries; second prize, Michael White.

Excellent music was furnished during the evening by a string orchestra. The "German committee" in charge are indeed entitled to great credit for the excellent time furnished the members, their wives and lady friends. The members of the committee were Fred J. Degan, Peter Lenord, Anton Graef, A. J. Gehert, A. W. Becker and Joseph Olliverson, chief.

Committee appointed for next occasion, Oscar Welsenberg, Jas. Harrigan, Stephen Bergschneider, Robt. McBride and Jas. Wagner.

ART EXHIBIT

Second Annual Display by Department of School of Art of Illinois College—Work of Pupils Has Been Thorough.

Tuesday was the first day of the annual exhibition of the School of Art of Illinois college and the studio in academy hall presented a very attractive appearance. It was the second annual exhibit of the art school and the work displayed showed that the department under Miss Wilhelmina Coultas is proving a valuable adjunct to the course offered the college and that it is attracting many students. The course offered consists of drawing and painting, china painting, metal work and basket work. In the art department the work is divided into three grades, elemental, consisting of work in still life, intermediate, outline work from casts, and antique, which consists of shading from casts of figures and heads.

The china painting is under the direction of Miss Carrie Kuechler and in her instruction the continental style of design is followed. The pupils show by their work that they have handled the color well and the fine revelation of the department makes its equipment very complete.

The metal work is in charge of Miss Margaret Arlingstall whose pupils have produced some very pretty brass bowls and perforated metal work. The pupils do their own riveting which is by no means an easy task and the work exhibited showed a completeness that evidenced clever workmanship and competent instruction.

The china painting and the work in the oil and water color work was attractively arranged and many compliments were passed upon the fine exhibit made. The visit to the studio impresses one with the conviction that it is a thorough "workshop" where excellence is valued above everything else and where as much attention is paid to the minor work as to the major accomplishments.

The art scholarship offered for the best drawing by a pupil in the public schools was won by Arminta Epler of Caldwell street, a pupil in the sixth grade of the second ward.

The studio will be open to visitors again to day.
